Remarkable Escape. A special from Wilk sbarre, Pa., contains the following:

The story of a mest remarkable escape from a borrible death comes from the Liurel Run Slope Colliery of the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company. As telegraphed last nightan explosion of fire-damp occurred late yesterday afternoon. The slope ex ends half a mile under ground, and three men. Wm. Ashford James Williams and Wm. Solville, were at work when the terrible shock startled everybody in the neighborhood. Fire followed the explosion, cutting off all means of escape of the misers, and it was thought they could not survive. The fire spread among the timbers in the slope about the lower chembers and had to be fought with buckets of water passed from hand to hand. After six hours of uoabated labor on the part of the comrades of the entembed miners, who by reason of the fierce heat and blinding smcke that filled the gans way leading to the burning timbers were fore-d to relieve each other at rapid intervals, the fire was pu; out and shortly before mideight a search for the supposed viotims was begun. As the mouth of the slope five hundr d cr six hundred people were gathered, the w ves of two of the men standing nearts; and gazing with anxious hearts down into the dark gangway, where every now and then, the fickering of the miners' little lamrs could be seen signalsog the approach of workers from below .-E.gerly these were questioned as they came up, but while none were cruel enough to say there was no hope, it was quite evident from their confidential whispors to brother miners that they did not expect to find the mon alive. The three imprisoned miners had been engagaged in outting an airway to some old working to secure better air for the chambere that were being worked, the ventilation having been recently impaired by an socident. The fire following the explosion raged furiously for five hours and played sad baveo with the bratters and props for three hundred yards. People at the surface did not know that the fire was xtinguished until some time after it was realy out. The mon leading the rescuirg party, as soon as they had got the better of the flames pushed their way through to the place where they know the men were lest working. This ras a distance of some 800 or 900 fe the way one of the miners picked up a hat and coat belonging to Scoville and some body conveyed these to the mou h of the pit. The stcry at once spread that Sopville's body had been ore to pieces, and when this came to the cars of Mrs. Scoville, who was scated on a log near by, she went nearly frantic and rent the air with her piteous screams, which were supplemented soon after by the cries of William's wife and by other excited women. But while these agon'zing things were transpiring around the mouth of the pit a some of very different nature was taking place below. There the leaders in the search were sending up shouts of juy over the miraculous dite very of the three men, all alive. Williams and Ash-ford were met coming up the gangway. They had heard their deliverers and were approaching to meet them. Sorville who was badly burced, was to week to walk and was lying where he fell.

All three men were quickly assisted to the month of the pit, where the expited growds. who had been told only a moment before of the wondeful discovery, stood bushed and silent for a moment as the forms of Williams, Scoville and Ashford were borne tenderly out in the open air. Then the surrounding bills sent back the clamer us shouts of joy that arose for several micules after the men were carried into their hemes near by. Hundreds visited the scene of the socident. All three men are quite sick, bat Sorville is the worst. Williams says the explosion occurred just when the opening to the old workings was made. The latter were filled with firedamp, which was ignited by the open lights of the miners. Right after the explesion the fire broke out, and the terror stricken men threw themselves on their faces along the gangwey rails, with their mcu be close to a little parrow stream. In that position they remained for nearly six hours, or up to within a fow moments of their rescue. The gangway was filled with gas and the stream was all that saved

Alexandris, Va., August 4. 1881.

I was thrown from my horse 6 or 7 years ago, and suffered a severe wound of the side, which was aggravated by disordered kidneys. Bleven months ago I was attacked with pneumonia and bladder disease, deposits of brick dust and abumen being discernable by the naked eye. I was confined to the house for aix months, and was unable to cross the floor without assistance. My physician did me no good. Having read in my religious weeklies of the wonderful cures by your Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, and being your Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, and being advised to use it by Captain Graham, I did so, and am once more able to walk the streets. My pains have left me, and I believe if I had used the remedy a year ago I should then a so have been cured.
